

Talia Frausto

Talia Frausto began dancing at nine at En Avant Dance Studio, where she trained in a wide variety of styles including Ballet, Hip Hop, Jazz, Contemporary, Lyrical, Irish Step, Modern, and Pointe. Her love for dance grew quickly, and she continued training and performing through high school.

After graduation Talia attended Gonzaga University, studying Computer Science and Dance. At Gonzaga Talia continued her Ballet, Jazz, Contemporary, and Modern dance. She worked with renowned artists such as Derek Hough, Ashley Menestrina, Ishita Mili, Angelo Egarese, and more. Talia worked with a local elementary school, teaching dance to children with limited access to dance and music and choreographed a number of performances and projects during her college career, gaining experience in leadership and creative thinking.

Exciting moments of her dance journey include performing in Florence, Italy at the Florence Dance Festival during a study abroad program, representing Gonzaga Dance in their Regional Recruitment Tour Company, and appearing in the new Gonzaga University commercial. Talia was also featured in a TEDx presentation by Spokane artist Caren Furbeyre, contributing to an artistic collaboration that combined dance and visual art. Talia is excited to be back at En Avant to share her passion for dance, and her new experiences and abilities.
